

Altrincham Business Improvement District (BID) Manager

Altrincham is the epitome of the modern market town, with high quality shopping, a growing reputation for excellent food and drink, a strong leisure sector and at the centre of it all, a revitalised market. It's a town with a strong cultural heart, where there is plenty to do and always something going on from live music nights to seasonal festivals, themed markets and sporting events. Building a brand to truly reflect this is one of our key aims.

With the BID up & running for a year and some key projects delivered, the Altrincham BID Board is now looking to appoint an exceptional business leader to take it to the next level

We are looking for a self-starter with the enthusiasm and initiative to lead a small team in successfully delivering the projects set out in our Business Plan over the remaining three and a half years of the current term and through a re-ballot process.

This high profile and challenging post will suit someone with a real passion for making things happen. Developing, juggling and delivering a variety of projects & services, maintaining effective relationships with stakeholders at all levels and making sure that successes are widely promoted and understood. A high level of interpersonal and communication, tact and diplomacy and project management skills are required. Experience in company management, event management and/or marketing and promotion will be an advantage.

This is not a post for the faint-hearted. If you are passionate, committed and enthusiastic about working in a new and exciting field offering the chance for personal development and the opportunity to play a pivotal role in projects that will enhance the place, then please contact us in the first instance.
